MANCHESTER PUMP-HOUSE

Plan for New Plant to be Considered by Water Board This Afternoon.

YOUNG WOMAN ARRESTED

Five Citizens Arrested on the Charge of Fighting—Pretty Surprise Party.

Manchester Bureau, Times-Dispatch, 1.
At 6 o'clock this afternoon the special committee from the Board of Water Commissioners will make their report to the board on the proposition for a new pump house.

This proposition comes from William R. Chipman, of New York, who has submitted plans for the construction of a plant, with clear water attachment, to cost less than $40,000.

The committee has had the matter under consideration for three days, and it is quite probable that the report will be favorable to the proposition.

It is known that the commissioners desire a new plant, on the grounds that the present one is in a bad way, having been in service for a long time.

The subcommittee consists of three practical business men and mechanics—Messrs. Uta, Wells and Green. In addition to these gentlemen Messrs. Percus and Pleasant are on the board.

Manchester citizens in general desire something in the way of better water and facilities, and when the matter comes before Council it is likely that the action of the Water Commissioners will be endorsed.

YOUNG WOMAN ARRESTED.

A young woman giving the name of Lottie Gibson, and Richmond as her home, was arrested by Policeman Wayne yesterday morning on a suspicious character. She was held at the station house until late in the afternoon, when she was bailed for her appearance in court.

The young woman was in the city Wednesday afternoon, acting reprehensibly. She was warned to go back to Richmond, never to return. She did return, and was acting in a disorderly fashion when Officer Wayne took her in charge. The officers think she is irresponsible.

GENTLEMENLY ROW.

The names of five gentlemen were placed on the blotter at the station house yesterday afternoon and the charge against them is fighting in the public streets.

The difficulty started in an argument concerning insurance matters, was allowed, and then it turned into a general mix-up. It was said.

From all reports nobody was much hurt.

Those whose names were placed on the blotter are: J. S. Smith, J. A. McCargo, C. J. Vaden, George Bass and Harry Dalton. The case will be called up this morning.

CONCERT TO-NIGHT.

The concert at Bainbridge Street Church to-night promises to be one of the most enjoyable affairs of the kind ever given here. Talent well known in Richmond and Manchester will participate and a splendid programme has been arranged.

A regular meeting of the Daimo Klan will be held at the Masonic Temple to-night, when officers for the term will be elected.

PRETTY PARTY.

Miss Emmie Claire Burke was given a delightful surprise party by a number of her friends at her home, in Manchester, Wednesday night, and a nice time was had by all in playing games and enjoying music. Those present were Misses Maude Merrill, Helen Baughman, Mabel Helen and Lillian Morrisette, Helen Jones, Lucie Lowry, Bessie and Emma Burke; Messrs. Arthur Russell, Otis Cheatham, Bertie Jones, Conway Burke, and Aaron Park; Mrs. J. A. Burke, Mrs. A. B. Morrisette and Mrs. T. A. Park.

A quartette of young Swambers men were each fined $2.50 by the Mayor yesterday for singing too loud on the streets late at night.

John Davidson, son of Mr. J. E. Davidson, will be ordained at Clifton Street Baptist Church on Sunday, June 20th. The services will be participated in by Revs. Baldy, Derieux, Hepburn, Cridlin and Knechtel.

The young Leroy Huband took place from the home, No. 104 Stockton Street, at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

Miss Gussie Elke is visiting Miss Minnie Shott, at Newport News.

EVACUATE NASHVILLE

Reunion of United Confederate Veterans Concluded Yesterday.

MANY ARE IN THE PARADE

Battle Scarred Heroes Marched to Strains of Old Southern Airs.

(By Associated Press.)

NASHVILLE, TENN., June 16.—As a fitting climax to the reunion of United Confederate Veterans, Nashville and her thousands of guests to-day gave the veterans, as they proudly marched through the densely crowded streets, an ovation which will live long in the memory of its recipients as well as those who paid the honor.

The day was warm, but the old men marched unflinchingly, although the step at times faltered. There was much confusion, caused by the poor policing along the route, but the start was made at the hour set and the last passed the reviewing stand two hours later. The Seventh Cavalry Band, U. S. A., led the parade, and this organization, as well as the many other bands in the long line, played only four pieces, but gave them over and over.

"Maryland, My Maryland," "My Old Kentucky Home," "The Girl I Left Behind Me," and "Dixie."

Those in Line.

United States mail carriers at several places along the line supplied water to the thirsty veterans. The parade was represented not only of every Southern State, but many camps located in the far West, one in Montana and another in Ohio, had delegations in line. The fourth division, composed principally of camps from Tennessee, Alabama, Georgia, Mississippi, entered the honors for the greatest number of men in line. The Virginians were an imposing body of men and were given many a cheer. The Fourth Brigade, North Carolina, headed by a camp from Asheville, bearing a flag in the branches of trees and headed by a drum corps of veterans, which now musters but four members, was one of the features of the parade.

Alabama's "yellow hammers" were heartily applauded. Many of the camp representatives were noticeably small, but the pride with which they held aloft their tattered battle flags made up for the deficiency in numbers. One Louisiana camp carried a flag so flayed by bullets and time that it was held together by a single thread.

On the Reviewing Stand.

In the reviewing stand, on Spruce Street was a distinguished company, including Mrs. John B. Gordon, the widow of the former commander-in-chief, and her daughters; Colonel Philip Hall, of Houston, Texas, a member of General Lee's staff; Mrs. John G. Brown and Bishop and Mrs. Fitzgerald, of Tennessee.

Mrs. Gordon stood at the front of the reviewing stand, and drawn up across the street were General Lee and his staff. The veterans cheered their leader to the music of "Dixie," and many rushed out of line to grasp his hand. Then they turned and saluted the widow of John B. Gordon. Mrs. Gordon was deeply moved at the manifestations of affection. Her emotion was quite perceptible as the grand division bore past the reviewing stand the flag of the Confederacy, that had been made from the ribbons that bedecked the grave of her beloved husband.

Stonewall Brigade Saluted.

Another affecting incident was the welcome and salute of the old Stonewall Brigade. The old flag was passed to the old warriors, bearing the tattered and battle-scarred flag they had carried through victory and defeat alike, stepped out of line and with one accord saluted Mrs. Gordon and General Lee.

The speaker came to a full share of the almost continuous applause and cheering, to which they responded with the waving of flags, parols and bouquets.

Completed Business.

The veterans held a brief session at the Tabernacle this afternoon to complete the business of the reunion. General George P. Harrison, of Opelika, Ala., introduced a resolution at the request of the Alabama Division, to the effect asking that the veterans appoint a committee to confer with the Daughters upon the matter of revising and modernizing the words of the South's most famous song, "Dixie." A prolonged discussion followed. General Cabell, of the Alabama Division, moved that the committee or any action which would put the veterans in the attitude of suggesting a change of words.

"That song furnished us inspiration through four long years of fighting," said the General. "It has furnished inspiration ever since, and I don't think it wise, standing with one foot on the grave, should permit any change in those words. The next thing we know," concluded the General, "some Yankee will come down here and want to change Cabell's name."

Oppose Change of "Dixie's" Words.

The convention finally voted to appoint the committee on a matter of importance to the Daughters of the Confederacy, but the veterans are firmly opposed to any change.

The reading of greetings from the Wisconsin Grand Army veterans, now in annual encampment at Madison, occasioned prolonged cheering. A suitable acknowledgment and answering was ordered sent by General Lee.

General William Jones, of Richmond, in explaining the progress of the movement to erect a monument to Jefferson Davis in Virginia's capital, said he hoped to invite the veterans to meet there in 1905, when they would dedicate the monument and hold their conventions in the auditorium of the Battle Abbey.

A resolution to abandon the parades of future reunions, owing to the increasing infirmities of the veterans, which was introduced by a member of an Arkansas camp, was unanimously voted against, and with the fall of the commander-in-chief's gavel, the reunion of 1904 passed into history.

Many of the veterans remained overnight, in order to avoid the get-away rush which was begun early to-day.

LIZARDS EMPLOYED TO KILL INSECTS

A Farmer Uses Two Hundred That are Trained for the Purpose.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

ROXBURY, VA., June 16.—There is a new enterprise started this year that bids to make the owner, Mr. John Minson, wealthy. Mr. Minson conceived the idea some time ago that he could produce an insect destroyer that would cause dead shot and Paris green to take a back seat. He has been thinking of it for some time, and he is as busy as the proverbial hen with one foot in the pot.

Mr. Minson has in his possession 235 trained l
